

Admiral Calls B-36 'Blunder'

Johnson's Powers May Be Curbed

Washington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The navy's No. 1 airman today branded the proud B-36 atom bomber as a "billion dollar blunder" and charged that the defense high command is freezing the navy out on decisions vital to victory in any future war.

No sooner had Admiral Arthur W. Radford, Pacific fleet commander and noted naval aviator, made his charges before the House armed services committee than a move sprang up in Congress to curb Secretary of Defense Johnson's powers.

All the long-smoldering unrest in the Navy exploded in a flat charge by Radford that the Air Force is "trying to eliminate" the Navy's air arm.

The handsome, 53-year-old flying admiral first unloaded a smashing derisive attack on the Air Force's gigantic B-36 as an over-rated 1941 model, "slow, expensive, very vulnerable."

Then the committee, delving into policy differences on war strategy in the Pentagon, poked into the upper levels.

Rep. Hardy (D-Va.) wanted to know if there is in the Navy a feeling of confidence in the offices of Secretary Johnson and Secretary of the Navy Matthews.

In the tense hearing room, Chairman Vinson (D-Va.) counseled: "Put your cards on the table."

No One Asks Navy

And the outspoken naval veteran of two wars, speaking slowly and with carefully chosen words, replied: "I feel the general impression in the Navy is that decisions are being made in the highest offices in the defense establishment without adequate information that can come only from the Navy."

Radford also observed that if pinpoints are requested of Navy officers "they are not given enough weight."

Hardy dug ahead: "Is there lack of confidence, a wall that separates you from the office of the secretary of defense?"

"I think so," the officer replied. "A most unhealthy situation," the congressman commented.

Radford's testimony pictured the armed services badly split on war strategy. He said their differences reached "malignant proportions." And he gravely told the lawmakers it is time to get to the bottom of it.

Vinson Leads Off

Chairman Vinson led off the move to curb Johnson's powers. He offered a memorandum which, as point No. 1, would amend the unification act to prevent Johnson from slashing appropriations for any service without congressional approval. He said he understood Johnson was wielding the axe on Navy funds.

Vinson said he brought up his memo simply to get something before the committee for discussion, and indicated he was not wedded to all its points.

Rep. Short (R-Mo.) observed that it is the "duty of congress to see that the money is spent for purposes for which it is appropriated."

"Absolutely," put in Rep. Sasser (D-Mo.). "Let's do it." (2) "Build a fire under the special weapons evaluation board in regard to the B-36," He did not explain.

But Radford contended at great length that the six-engined behemoth could neither scare off a war nor win one. He called it useless on defense and inadequate in attack in the blitz war for which it is held ready.

The swift jet-powered B-47 is a better plane, Radford said. This is an Air Force ship also.

Troubled Germany Is Now Officially Divided Country

Berlin, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Troubled Germany became an officially divided nation of two governments and two capitals today.

The Russians hit back at the West German Republic at Bonn, on the Rhine, by creating a government of their own in the ruins of Hitler's Nazi headquarters at East Berlin.

A group of communists and hand-picked sympathizers making up the people's council appointed themselves the government for the 20,000,000 Germans in the Soviet zone.

They claimed power over all Germany. They passed a law to legalize the regime.

A 20-point manifesto was adopted, obviously linking German territory east of the Elbe river with Moscow and the communist satellite states.

Establishment of the new regime actually advances only a step the split in German affairs that became evident three years ago in the occupation policies of Russia and the three western powers, the United States, Britain and France.

Unruh Is Judged Insane; Won't Be Tried For Murder

Illinois News Briefs

Camden, N. J., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Mass killer Howard B. Unruh is insane, Prosecutor Mitchell H. Cohen announced today.

Under New Jersey law, the prosecutor said, he will move next week to commit the 28-year-old war veteran to an institution for the criminally insane.

He will not be brought to trial on any of the 13 indictments charging him with murder.

One month ago yesterday, Unruh shot and killed 13 persons in the bloodiest street slaughter in U. S. history.

Since then, the hollow-cheeked young man who strode silently from shop to shop on his murder tour has been a model patient at the Trenton State hospital.

He underwent a long series of tests before four psychiatrists decided.

"This man should be regularly committed to the Trenton State hospital where custody, supervision and treatment is available and people in the community will be protected from injury or danger should there be a recurrence of his homicidal impulses."

Hearing the report on a radio broadcast, Unruh's 50-year-old mother, Frieda, collapsed. A doctor was summoned to care for her.

8-State Governor's Plan Approved By MoPac Union Men

St. Louis, Oct. 7.—(AP)—An eight-state governor's conference plan for settling the four-week-old Missouri Pacific strike was accepted today by union officials.

The railroad management was considering the plan. It would not result in an immediate end to the walkout.

Governors or their representatives from the eight states recommended the company and the four striking unions enter negotiations immediately "in good faith."

"We further recommend that at the conclusion of such negotiations the parties agree on the method of disposition of any cases on which no agreement has been reached by negotiation," a prepared statement said.

"When such method of disposition, whether by arbitration, mediation, submission to the Railway Adjustment Board or by any other method, is agreed upon the strike shall be immediately terminated."

State Announces Low Bidders On 3 Building Projects

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Apparent low bidders on projects at three state institutions were announced today by the state architect and engineering division.

Projects and other details: Roads, walks, fences and drainage facilities around two infirmaries at Chicago State hospital, Milburn Brothers, Inc., Mt. Prospect, $38,000.

Purchasing and installing 150,000 gallon elevated water tank at Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Children's Home, Normal, Chicago Bridge and Iron Co., Chicago, $38,200.

Boiler repairs at Broadway armory, Chicago, Independent Boiler and Tank Co., Chicago, $4,920.

FLAGMAN KILLED IN SWITCHING MISHAP

Danville, Ill., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Raymond Gossett, 53, 707 South Grove street, Urbana, Ill., a flagman for the Peoria and Eastern railroad, was killed today in a freight train switching mishap.

Wheels of freight cars ran over him while he was working in the Hillery yards west of Danville. Deputy Coroner William H. Hackman said death was accidental.

3 Hours Of Dissuasive Talk Fail As Vet Shoots Self

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 7.—(AP)—After dramatic efforts to prevent his suicide, a demented war veteran today shot himself and fell dying at the feet of his wife and his mother.

The shot climaxed three hours of tense efforts to coax the veteran, Roger Kohlenberger, 32, out of a hot, dark attic.

He had lain in the attic bleeding from slashed wrists while a young psychiatrist and two policemen knelt beside him and talked steadily.

Although he drank coffee and smoked cigarettes, he kept a German souvenir pistol pointed constantly at his head.

At the foot of the attic ladder, Kohlenberger's 30-year-old wife, Paula, and his mother wept and prayed for him to come down.

Finally, he said he would give up. He stepped on the top rung of the ladder leading down to the apartment where he lived with his wife and two-year-old son. Then suddenly he fired one shot into his head.

His body thudded to the floor. Two hours later he died in a hospital. Police said ironically that the gun, she too begged her son to come down.

AFL Starts Drive To Up Membership

Would Bolster Political Power In 1950 Election

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 7.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor today announced a drive to sign up a million new union members in 1950 to bolster labor's political strength.

The AFL convention approved a policy calling for a coordinated political and membership drive in the coming election year.

"These two gigantic efforts," the convention statement said, "cannot help but increase the prestige and membership of the AFL and at the same time protect the welfare and democracy of all organized workers."

Waris Million New Men

Charles MawGowan, president of the Boilermakers union, and one of the AFL's top political leaders, said that by adding one million new members to AFL ranks "our political job will be made that much easier."

The big labor organization presently claims 8,000,000 members. It acquired only 20,000 new members in the past year even though almost $2,000,000 was spent by the national AFL organization, plus sums spent by local unions adding to many times that figure.

So the million new members is an ambitious goal. The convention already has approved plans for the AFL's biggest splash in politics in next year's congressional elections.

A speech by George N. Craig, new national commander of the American Legion—a cautioning against increasing government welfare laws and federal powers—caused a stir among delegates.

Favor Expanded Social Security

They had just adopted a series of resolutions favoring an expanded social security program, government health insurance, and federal aid to education and middle income housing.

"The American Legion wants a state of welfare in America but not a welfare state," Craig told the convention. "It is the able-bodied, free American citizen's own responsibility to assure his economic security through his own hard work, thrift and enterprise."

"We do not believe that social security should be primarily and exclusively a government responsibility."

Craig said welfare systems should be bargained out by labor and management to keep "economic policy-making in these United States in private hands."

Girl Pleads Case Of Lover, Gains Freedom For Him

Baltimore, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Pretty Peggy Peterson got her man out of jail today, but she can't marry him for another year.

Criminal Court Judge Robert France suspended a 10-year prison sentence he had imposed upon William J. Sanbury, for forgery, placing him on probation for three years.

The judge said he was suspending the sentence largely because of Peggy's faith in Sanbury.

The two met in San Quentin prison, where Peggy was an employee and Sanbury an inmate, serving a term for burglary. They fell in love.

Sanbury was paroled and sent to Maryland to face forgery charges. Peggy followed him here from San Francisco to plead for his release.

She told Judge France she was sure Sanbury would go straight. She said she wanted to marry him, and offered to help repay the losses from his bad checks.

Sanbury was released on three conditions: that none of Peggy's funds are to be used in making $1,450 restitution; that Sanbury and Peggy are not to marry for a year; and that Sanbury must use any refunds on his service life insurance to make restitution for his forgeries.

Chemist Explains Car Blisters By Capillary Action

Cape Girardeau, Mo., Oct. 7.—(AP)—What caused an outbreak of goosebumps on several hundred automobiles around here this week? A chemist came up with an answer today—capillary action.

After almost continuous rain of 72 hours, car owners noticed a plague of soft pimples on paint jobs, ranging from the size of a dime on down. Each held a drop of water.

It was a total mystery until today. Prof. A. C. Magill, head of the Chemistry department of the State College here, explained that some paint is porous. He offered the theory that capillary action forced water through the paint, causing "blisters."

Capillary action works on trees all over the world because it would not be the time. It's what takes moisture from the roots to the leaves.

Stevenson Urges Reform of Charter Before Historians

Chicago, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The Illinois State Historical Society, celebrating its golden anniversary, today heard Governor Stevenson echo an appeal voiced by his grandfather at the society's annual meeting 46 years ago.

Both Stevensons—Adlai E., present Illinois chief executive, and the late Adlai E., vice president of the United States under Grover Cleveland—urged reforming the state's 1870 constitution.

The governor told of his unsuccessful attempt during the 1949 legislature to achieve reform through letting the people vote next year on calling a constitutional convention.

He recalled that his grandfather reviewed the 1870 basic charter and its two predecessors, and spoke of the need for overhauling the then 33-year-old document which still is the basic law.

The governor promised to keep pushing for a change.

Stevenson said that since taking over his new job he has learned that scores of persons are interested in preserving historic old houses—at state expense. He said the number now being cared for will be increased on a selective basis when funds permit.

Illinois May Ask Kin Of Mental Ill For Financial Aid

Chicago, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The state is considering asking relatives of patients in state hospitals to pay for their care, if the relatives can afford it.

This was reported by Fred K. Hoehner, director of the State Welfare department, at a meeting of the department's advisory board yesterday.

"Some drastic steps must be taken," he said, because of an overload of 16,000 patients in the hospitals.

About one third of the 34,000 mental patients being treated by the state are over 60 years of age.

Hoehner said some other states now receive voluntary payments from relatives of patients, but Illinois law now prohibits any payments except for clothing. Private institutions charge about $400 a month for care of mental patients.

The director also suggested screening of applicant's for state hospital treatment, to determine those which need it most. This would require new legislation. Another method, already being used to cut down the patient load, is boarding out some patients to private homes.

Commission Will Study Legalizing Handbook Betting

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Three state senators today were named as members of an Illinois Legislative commission to study the feasibility of legalizing handbook operations.

The appointees are Senators Arthur J. Bidwell (R-River Forest), William J. Connors (D-Chicago) and William G. Knox (R-Chicago). They were named by Senator Wallace Thompson of Galesburg, Republican majority leader.

The commission, created by the 1949 General Assembly, will study the advisability of state licensing of handbooks from the standpoint of raising additional revenue for the state, cities and other political subdivisions.

It will also look into licensing as a means of solving the law enforcement problem raised by bookies, who accept bets on horse races at places away from the tracks. Such activity is not lawful.

Senate Defeats Mandatory 90% Parity Price Supports

Washington, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The Senate turned down mandatory 90 per cent parity price supports for basic farm commodities tonight.

By a vote of 45 to 26 it reversed the decision of last Tuesday that strarled up price support legislation and sent it back to committee for a new start.

Then it pressed on toward a vote on the measure by Senator Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture, for so-called "flexible" supports of 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

The decision came in the face of a new argument from Secretary of Agriculture Brannan that the extra cost of 90 per cent support is "relatively small."

"Parity is a price calculated to give farmers a 'fair' return in terms of the price of things they buy."

The vote on the amendment clinched an angry, knock-down-drag-out fight over the height of the floor price under prices of five commodities—corn, wheat, cotton, rice and peanut—over the last six years.

Commodity was not directly involved because it would not be the time. It's what takes moisture from the roots to the leaves.

150,000,000TH BABY WILL BE BORN SOON

Somewhere in the United States a baby will soon be born with whom the population will reach 150,000,000. We're six years ahead of schedule—the U. S. Census Bureau had forecast as recently as 1947 that we wouldn't reach the 150,000,000 mark until 1955.

Now, the Census Bureau estimates the population at 149,452,000 last Aug. 1, an increase of 237,000 over the July figure. That works out to a daily average of 7,645 during July. On that basis the 548,000 net increase needed for the 150,000,000 total would come on Oct. 11.

Although short-range predictions like this one can't be far wrong, long-range population forecasts have proved to be about as inaccurate as the political polls were last November. A life insurance company prediction in 1931 set this country's maximum population at 148,000,000 to be reached in 1970. Another authority predicted in 1934 that the maximum would be reached in 1948, when there would be 132,000,000 of us.

On the other hand, two Johns Hopkins university professors, Pearl and Reed made an uncannily accurate forecast back in 1921. They put the population in 1950 at 148,678,000. It will be a long time before another of their predictions can be checked; a maximum population of 196,681,000 reached in 2100. (The 1947 Census Bureau forecast was for 163,312,000 in the year 2000, based on the assumptions of medium fertility and mortality and of no immigration.)

The estimated population of last Aug. 1 represents an increase of 17,732,000, or 13.5 per cent, over the 131,669,275 persons actually counted on April 1, 1940, the date of the last census. This gain is almost twice that of the 1930-1940 decade. The population in 1940 was 33 1/2 times greater than the 3,929,214 persons counted in the first census, taken in 1790.

The next complete population check will be made in the 1950 census. Plans are being made now to count noses in the giant undertaking.

Conservation Program Features Club Meet

Significant facts and stimulating there were 322 new babies. This viewpoint concerning the currently increase in population, declared Mrs. Wright, conservation problem were pre-Beggs, necessitates more room and facilities in the schools to accommodate the estimated 350 additional children who will enter school in the Dunlap hotel.

Fern Haigh, chairman of the public affairs committee, introduced the speakers. Mrs. Courtney Crouch and Mrs. Hugh Beggs.

Mrs. Wright discussed the elm tree disease situation, describing the major diseases, phloem necrosis and Dutch elm tree disease. She warned of the fallacy of having trees sprayed as a cure for either of these diseases, pointing out that cure cannot be effected in this manner because the disease is caused by certain elm beetles which thrive on dead wood.

Mrs. Wright submitted the following suggestions, based upon a report of A. Hammett and Ben Roodhouse of the New England experimental station: to remove and destroy by burning all dead elm trees, to fertilize all trees and spray for leaf-eating insects, such as the canker worm, which has infested many trees during the past year. For replacing the missing trees, she suggested the hard maple, sweet gum, ginkgo, tulip, ash, sycamore, linden and hackberry.

In conclusion, she urged those who suspect the disease in their trees, to contact the chamber of commerce, which in turn will get in touch with Dr. Telson, state botanist.

The problem of conservation of human resources, especially in relation to the need for expansion of elementary schools, was discussed by Mrs. Beggs. She quoted figures, stating that in 1942, 199 babies were born in Jacksonville and in 1947, 514 babies were born in Jacksonville and in 1947, 514 babies were born in Jacksonville and in 1947, 514 babies were born in Jacksonville.

Talk On Japan Given At C. D. Of A. Meeting

An enlightening account of the conditions and aspects of Japan today was given by Mrs. Robert Patterson, former Jacksonville resident, Thursday evening when addressing Court Our Saviour, Catholic Daughters of America, at its October meeting held in the Knights of Columbus hall.

Mrs. Patterson, who has recently returned from a two-years stay in Japan, where her husband was an army officer, told of the poverty of the great masses of people, the evidences of bombings during the war, and the prevalence of illness among children because of malnutrition.

She described Japanese home life, the education of boys and also that of girls, the changes brought about by the American occupation and the attitude of the Japanese people towards the Americans. She also spoke in regards to the religious life of the people and the threat of Communism.

Report By Mrs. Sauer
 Another highlight of the meeting was a report by Mrs. Reginald Sauer, grand regent and delegate to the conference of the National Council of Catholic Women, held Oct. 1 and 2 at the Leland hotel in Springfield, with 400 delegates from the Springfield diocese in attendance.

The theme of the meeting was "The Confraternity of Christian Doctrine." Speakers included Father Larkin, Father Sudds, Father Sullivan, Father Driscoll, Father McGrath and Bishop William A. O'Connor.

Their addresses were concerned with the best methods of applying the principles of Christian doctrine to the puzzling problems of today. They stressed the fact that it is the wish of the Holy Father, Pope Pius XII, that Catholic women live up to their principles and through the many channels available to them bring Christian doctrine into everyday life. This objective may be achieved through study clubs, interest in international relations, active, purposeful work with youth, social action, greater zeal in the work of the church by instruction and example and, above all, through the integrity of home life.

During the business session, reports were presented by the chairmen of the various activities, including Mrs. Neuner for faith forward; Miss Catherine Schirz, Girl Scouts; Mrs. A. W. Becker, mis-

Veterans Should Apply Soon For School Benefits

Veterans who desire to participate in educational benefits of the GI Bill of Rights should make application before November 1, 1949, the Illinois Veterans Commission warned Friday.

Under a new ruling of the Veterans Administration, effective on that date, veterans who have plans to use their educational benefits will have to give "complete justification" in order to do so.

Many veterans who have finished satisfactorily a course of study and desire additional training are effected by the ruling as well as those who have temporarily interrupted a course of study. The VA ruling has made it necessary, effective November 1, for veterans to prove that education at the expense of Uncle Sam is necessary in connection with present or contemplated business or occupation.

Courses entered into prior to November 1 will not be affected by the VA ruling. Service officers of the Illinois Veterans Commission have been notified of the contemplated changes and are ready to assist veterans or advise them on the important features of the changes.

In Morgan and Scott counties veterans can receive assistance at the IVC office located at 6-7 Morrison Block in Jacksonville or on Wednesday at the court house.

Carrollton High School Will Have 2nd Homecoming

Carrollton — The second annual homecoming of the Carrollton high school will be held during the week of Oct. 23-28 inclusive. Plans for the week include the crowning of a homecoming queen at a dance to be held Oct. 28 in the high school gymnasium following a football game here with Roodhouse. "The Lucky Accident," a play written by Wilbur Braun, will be presented by the junior class on the evening of Oct. 26 at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. Thursday night there will be a big bonfire and pep meeting at Wright Memorial Park in preparation for the football game Friday evening.

The home coming event is sponsored by the student council, which is receiving nominations for the queen. Anyone wishing to place a name for nomination may do so by turning the name to Dick Mehrhoff with a dime deposit. When all nominations are in, the five contestants for the title will be selected by vote of the student body on Oct. 17. Milk bottles bearing the names of the contestants will then be placed on the stage in the assembly. Voting will be by depositing money in the bottles. Each penny is a vote. The girl receiving the greatest number of votes by 12 noon on Oct. 28 will be declared the winner and crowned at the homecoming dance.

The junior class play, directed by Miss Elizabeth Bell of the high school faculty has a cast which includes Miss Barbara Admire, Miss Jenelle Maholland, Miss Jeannette Baumgartner, Miss Betty Platt, Miss Betty Tuley, Miss Mary Rollins, Miss Catherine Cunningham, Tommy Maberry, Bobby Langer, Don Stendebach and John Combs.

Johnny Mize Sparks Yankees To 4-3 Series Win

Crimsons Drop Central Conference Grid Fray To Beardstown Eleven

A hard-running Beardstown football team piled up a 26-6 victory over the Jacksonville high school eleven under the local bulbs last night.

The win enabled the river-gang to retain the Striped Jug token of victory between Jacksonville and Beardstown for several decades. It was also a Central Conference scalp for the Tiger eleven.

The Nick Carter coached club, led by a will-o-the-wisp ball carrier named Bob Sinnock, scored in every period except the second. The speedy Sinnock—a track man in the off-season—ramped into pay dirt for three of Beardstown's touchdowns. Best, left halfback, tallied the other.

The return of Johnny Walker, injured right halfback, was the lone bright spot in Crimson Coach Ed Kraushaar's night. Walker, suffering from an ankle hurt, he suffered in the Pittsfield opener three weeks ago, limped into the ball game to spark the lone Jacksonville touchdown drive in the fourth quarter.

Tigers Roll Up 14 First Downs
Beardstown started early to pile up a tremendous amount of yardage against the local defenders. Sticking strictly to the ground, the Tigers rolled to 14 first downs, averaging six yards per offensive try. The Crimson's total five chain-changes, getting two the first half and three the second.

A foul-ball punt by a Jacksonville griddler set up the first Beardstown scoring march mid-way through the first canto. The wayward ball landed on the Crimson 15 yard line, after Jacksonville had tried to kick out of danger. Sinnock carried the ball from tailback on a single-wing to the right play and scampered 15 yards into the end zone. A line plunge by Halfback Moore gave the

A dramatic finish to a dramatic baseball season is currently underway as the Yankees and Dodgers fight it out for top money in the diamond business. Many fans will argue that the two clubs are not representative of the best that their respective leagues have to offer, but none can debate that they are not the most evenly matched. Should these one-run victories persist, Casey and Burt will probably start angling for a six-man football coaching job.

When Johnny Mize boomed out yesterday's game-saving double for the Yanks, players on both teams were probably reminded of same time, same place, same situation in 1947 when a "washed-up" outfielder named Cookie Lavagetto whipped a double down the right field line to win an all-important series game for the Dodgers.

Westville high school—the first in Illinois to illuminate its football field—has returned to the bulbs. The first set of arcs—installed in 1927—were scrapped in 1939. A new plant is now in operation. The premier lamps were set up on saplings. We're informed that poles of a more sturdy nature were used the second time.

The experts are naming Augustana's golden wave as the football team to beat in the Little Nine conference. The Illinois College Blueboys aren't too far off pace in our book. The North Central tangle here this afternoon will prove a crucial test for Al Miller's boys in loop competition. Can they hurdle the Cardinals, it ought to be smooth sailing until they bump into the Augies in the last home game of the season.

Taking a gander at our chipped, cracked and crucified crystal ball we can't see much more than a 19-13 win for the Millermen. The big boys—Chicago, Bloomington, Decatur, etc.—are calling the shot 27-6, Illinois College. What do you think, Joe Fan?

Ohio State Picked To Beat Trojans

Los Angeles, Oct. 7.—(P)—The trend switched toward the Ohio State grid camp today and the Buckeyes from the Big Ten probably will take the field tomorrow favored to trim the Trojans of Southern California.

Two late developments brought the change. Southern California experts got a close look at Coach Wesley Fesler's sturdy squad and came away impressed. Of more tangible worth, however, is the loss of Trojan Halfback Jay Roundy. Coach Jeff Cravath's star breakaway runner, due to a shoulder injury in practice.

USC expects 60,000 or more fans. Kickoff: 4:30 p.m. (Central Standard Time).

BADGERS BATTLE CALIFORNIA BEARS

Madison, Wis., Oct. 7.—(P)—California's unbeaten Bears meet the one-tied Wisconsin Badgers tomorrow before an expected 45,000 football fans at Camp Randall stadium. The Bears are favored to turn their victory string to four straight in the intersection duel. Wisconsin won its opener from a weak Marquette team, but was tied last week by Illinois.

Clear skies with temperatures in the 70s are forecast.

An injury riddled Illinois college football squad will go after its first CCI win of the year Saturday afternoon at JHS field playing host to the Cardinals of North Central college. Kick off time is 2 p.m.

The IC crew, who opened their Little Nine campaign by tying Millikin 6 to 6 two weeks ago, hope to find better fortunes this weekend in its tussle with Coach Bill Olson's Naperville aggregation.
But the lengthy list of injuries that have been suffered by coach Joe Brooks' first string linemen somewhat dulls the brightness of the picture for Saturday afternoon. Captain Don Longer and starting guard Bill Mathews will both be out of action for at least two weeks, and Bob Brand, who has filled in so capably at tackle since Sam Spink has been out of the lineup, is lost for the season.

Sam Spink Is Back

The only bright spot in the lineup picture for Coach Brooks is the return to action of veteran tackle Sam Spink. Sam will be back in the lineup Saturday after nursing a twisted knee for the past two weeks. Bill Long is the probable starter in the guard spot vacated by Mathews, and Bob Harshman is expected to start the contest in Longer's place at end.

Coach Al Miller's backfield worries are not quite so disturbing. It was apparent last Saturday at Principia that J. J. LeLaPaz needed more rest for his weak ankle. The Blueboy mentor hopes that he will have had that rest by this weekend. Line plunging fullback Bill Gross has been undergoing medical treatment for a ruptured blood vessel on his shin, but he has been taking his regular place in practice scrimmage.

Stengel Whoops It Up As Burt Philosophizes

Brooklyn, Oct. 7.—(P)—Manager Burt Shotton of the Brooklyn Dodgers sadly expounded some baseball philosophy after today's World Series game.

"When they get men on bases and then they hit it up against the fence, there's gotta be runs," he said.

He referred to that all-important pitch to Johnny Mize in the ninth inning with the bases loaded.

But here's the surprise. Often baseball men claim that pitches that are hit at game turning points are mistakes, throws that got away from the pitcher, or a case of a misunderstood signal.

But not Burt Shotton.

"Ralph Branca got the ball where he wanted it, and still Mize hit it. It was a high, fast one," he said.

Then he followed the tall, sad Brooklyn pitcher into the shower room, took him by the arm, and told him earnestly:

"If you had to throw that ball 40 times it would still be right there. Only trouble is, he hit it."

The only consolation that Shotton took in the defeat was that "it had to be a Giant to do it."

The Yankees got Mize from the New York Giants of the National league Aug. 22.

The Dodgers took no pleasure in the fact that in one game today they hit three home runs, as many as Dodger teams have hit all together in four previous World Series. The dressing room after the game was subdued and quiet. Even the home run hitters—Pee Wee Reese, Roy Campanella and Luis Olmo—were unsmiling.

Reese, captain and spark plug of the Dodgers, gave all his attention to his right ankle. He was hit there by Tommy Byrne in the first inning to get on base, only to get caught in a double play. The ankle appeared to be swelling and showed considerable redness.

"It's getting a little stiff now," said Reese. "In the latter part of the game I began to feel it."

Another Dodger casualty, right-fielder Carl Furillo, said he aggravated his groin injury when he fired to the plate after catching Phil Rizzuto's fly in the third. Furillo's throw was bad and Cliff Mapez scored the first run of the game, but he probably would have done so even on a good peg.

and should be in top form against the Cardinals.

North Central Has Veterans
A look at North Central's veteran studded lineup, is enough to convince one that the Cardinals will be no pushover. On their starting roster they boast seven lettermen and four newcomers. Among the lettermen are the highly touted center Norrie Cross, all-conference for the last two years, and halfback Lenny Burch, who has received honorable mention on the list of stand out players in the CCI for the same period.

Both these rugged veterans are carryovers from the 1947 Cardinal squad that walked away with the conference crown. Tipping the scales at only 145 pounds, Burch will probably be the lightest man on the field Saturday afternoon, but he will also be one of the toughest to stop.
In all, the Cardinals have 14 lettermen back for another season, and had a total of 70 candidates trying for a position on the squad in early practice drills. With 20 handicapped charges with whom Coach Olson has been working, the Cardinal mentor hopes to raise his team back up from the eighth place depths in the conference standings to which they dropped last year.

Has Broken Even To Date
So far this season, Coach Olson's crew have broken even in two contests. They lost their opener to Knox college 25 to 6, and topped Iowa Central by an 18 to 14 count last week. Coming to town for their first Little Nine start of the year, the Cardinals will be gunning for revenge for the 14 to 0 setback they suffered at the hands of the Blueboys at Naperville last fall.

But they will find the Blueboys to be a formidable force despite injuries. While the first string Blueboy line was in the contest against Principia last Saturday, during over half the game, the Indians were able to pick up only 18 yards by rushing. A tight pass defense stymied the Principia aerial attack.

With both clubs going for their first Little Nine win of the season on JHS field Saturday afternoon, the encounter promises to be a do-or-die show that will be a dogfight from start to finish.

Jerseyville Nabs 24-7 Valley Win At Carrollton

Carrollton—The Jerseyville Panthers proved that they're going to have something to say about the Illinois Valley football title this season when they whipped Carrollton's Hawks 24-7 here last night.

It was the second successive league victory for the Jersey eleven. Carrollton now owns a conference record of one win and one defeat.

Jim Warford led the Panther attack. He tallied in the second and third quarters to give Jerseyville a 12-0 advantage going into the last chapter.

Jim Thurston, Jerseyville halfback, broke loose on a 65 yard end run to score for the Panthers in the fourth. Bill Reynolds tried the same end run for 22 yards and a touchdown later in the same quarter.

Carrollton's lone touchdown was notched by Big Bob Grainer—190 pound halfback. He also kicked the extra point for his Hawks.

A series of kicks, passes and plunges failed to garner a single extra point for Jerseyville.

The winners rolled to 14 first downs. Carrollton had seven. Jerseyville was penalized 95 yards while the Hawks were set back only 45.

Football Yankees Nip Hornets 38-24

Chicago, Oct. 7.—(P)—Buddy Young's speed, coupled with accurate passing by Quarterback Don Panciera, enabled the New York Yankees to tighten their hold on third place in the All-America conference football standing by running up a 38-24 victory over the Chicago Hornets before 17,099 in Soldier Field tonight.

Young tallied three touchdowns on runs of 71, 18 and 5 yards, his first coming on the first play from scrimmage only 46 seconds after the opening whistle. Panciera completed 9 of 12 passes. One a toss to Bob Kennedy good for 27 yards to climax a 65-yard Yankee march late in the third quarter.

Stengel, surrounded by reporters and well-wishers in the crowded dressing room, laughingly insisted that he wouldn't have changed pinch-hitters even if Brooklyn manager Burt Shotton had switched to a left-handed pitcher.

"Mize came in just at the right time," said Stengel. "Shotton had Joe Hatten warming up; that's why I waited to see if he was going to change before I took out Mapez. But Mize has been hitting lefthanders and righthanders for 10 years. I wouldn't have changed again. He's like DiMaggio and Henrich and Berra, they all hit all kinds of pitching."

Casey, attempting to dress hurriedly to take the team's bus back to Manhattan, brushed off questions about Joe Page's sensational relief pitching with: "He did wonderful. He was in there longer than usual, but he went as far against the Red Sox the other day."

Page, dripping with perspiration, admitted he had tired a little to wound the end.

"I eased up a little, too," he added. "I took a big chance on Olmo after I had one out and eased up a little on a fast ball. He hit it for a home run. Campanella lunged at a curve for his homer. The ball was a bit slick and I was getting my fingers damp so my control wasn't so good at the end. I never use a resin bag."

Ninth Inning Rally Nets Bombers 3 Runs, 2nd Win Over Bums

By Gayle Talbot

Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Oct. 7.—(P)—Big Johnny Mize came back to haunt the National league today.

A Yankee only since Aug. 22, the 36-year-old veteran smashed a two-run pinch single off the right field wall to spark a three-run rally in the ninth inning that just nipped the homer blasting Brooklyn, 4 to 3, in the third game of the World Series.

The two clubs were knotted 1-1 in another homerich pitchers' duel when large John unloaded the blow that broke the game wide open. Another Yankee run crossed before the Brooks recovered from Johnny's smack, and it was just as well, for both Luis Olmo and Roy Campanella smashed four baggers into the left field stands before Joe Page erased a pinch-hitter for the final out of the tussle.

Johnny Mize

The American leaguers were a badly frustrated crew up to the time Mize delivered. His way only the fourth hit off Ralph Branca, who had pitched a tremendous game for eight and two-third innings.

Page, who relieved Tommy Byrne after the Southpaw had thrown a home-run ball to Pee Wee Reese and had loaded the bases on a single and two walks in a fourth-inning blow-up, throttled the Dodgers on one lone hit the rest of the way before Olmo and Campanella jumped him at the end.

Joe looked jittery and the crowd of 32,788 was yelling for blood when bulky Bruce Edwards went up to hit for the pitcher after Campanella's blast had reduced the Yankee's margin to a single run. But once again the great relief chucker had it in the clutch, and he sat Edwards down with his second strikeout of the inning to end the game and give the Yanks a 2-1 lead in victories.

Up to the time Branca suddenly lost his control and walked Yogi Berra with one out in the ninth, the 23-year-old fastballer had set down 14 Yankee batters in succession. During that blinding stretch he looked unbeatable.

The American leaguers had made their second run of the three series games in the third inning on a walk, a single by Pitcher Byrne through the center of the diamond and an outfield fly. Gene Woodling had batted a double off the scoreboard with two down in the fourth, and that was all the Yanks had done to the Dodger youngster prior to Berra's walk.

Forces DiMaggio To Pop Up
Branca forced Joe DiMaggio to pop foul for the second out but Bobby Brown came through with a sharp single into right to send Yogi to second.

Really unsettled by this time, Branca began throwing the ball into the dirt and giving Campanella a hard time off it behind the plate. When he walked Gene Woodling to fill the bases, the stage was all set for Mize's entrance.

The large man who wears a No. 36 on his back and swings a man-sized 36-ounce bludgeon, let the count go to two balls and one strike and then bounced the next one off the palmeto at about the 300-foot mark to send Berra and Brown dashing home and propelling Woodling around to third.

That was all for Branca. Jack Banta, another young right-hander, came on to pitch to Gerry Coleman, and the Yankee freshman belted a single into center to put the Yanks out in front, 4-1.

The downcast Brooklyn rooters began seeking the exits when Gil Hodges, first to face Page in the ninth, rolled weakly to second. But they hesitated when Olmo laid into a fast ball and parked it in the lower deck. Page said later he was beginning to tire at that stage and perhaps eased up a bit.

Campanella Gets Freak Homer
Duke Snider whiffed for the second out, and it looked like it was all over. Then Campanella lunged at a curve and sent a sky-high fly to left which just reached the top of the lower railing in left and bounced into the stands.

So things were somewhat tense when Edwards, a dangerous right-hander, strode to the plate. Manager Casey Stengel trudged out and had a good, long talk with Page before he decided to leave him in. His ultimate faith in the pitcher who was appearing in his 62nd game of the year, proved justified as Edwards let a third strike go past without offering at it.

Rain, which had threatened throughout the contest, began coming down while Edwards was at bat, and it probably would have been impossible to play another inning. The infield was quickly covered to protect it for tomorrow's fourth game.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Tod Duncan married Jenny after his fiancée died. Both have tried to make a success of this marriage "on the rebound," but Tod's family, which is inhospitable to Jenny, and financial difficulties continue to make life one continuous struggle. Then Jenny finds out that she is to become a mother. Tod thoughtfully leaves her one night to visit his own mother, and Jenny's time is at hand. Fortunately an old nurse of Tod's, Rick Morris, drops in.

XVII

Jenny heard Rick's unhurried voice with a hint of laughter in it. "I'm not the proud father, really. He's well. I didn't have time to find out just where he had gone, but—"

She couldn't seem to control her thoughts. They swam around crazily, just as she herself was swimming now through pale green mist. "Tod hadn't really wanted this baby. He hadn't even wanted to talk about it. And he couldn't be bothered with sitting around with her every evening until it came. Ma was lonely."

Ma's face was there all at once, very real, dancing before her, wearing an expression of mockery. "You schemed and flattered to get him to marry you, when you knew all the time he was still in love with Liz!"

"No!" she cried out. "I didn't scheme and flatter. I only loved him."

Rick's voice interrupted gently. "Jenny!" Jenny opened her eyes, and through the mist his face emerged. The room came into focus, pale green walls, venetian blinds, and on the metal bureau a huge bouquet.

"Have I been talking crazy, Rick?" she asked weakly. She twisted her fingers around his warm hand.

Rick flushed and looked embarrassed. "You're supposed to rest, Jenny," he said gravely.

A nurse bustled in. "So she's finally come out of it. Well, dearie, literally thousands of 'New Yorkers' actually do not reside in the city. They commute miles daily so that they can live in the 'country' or suburbs."

9 Burned Bodies Found In Wreckage Of Army Transport

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 7.—(P)—Rescuers found nine burned bodies today amid the flame-blackened remains of an air force transport plane.

Forest rangers discovered the big C-47, broken into bits, on the steep eastern slope of Mt. Mitchell, 35 miles northeast of here. They set the time of the crash at 11:30 a.m. last Wednesday.

The ship, carrying seven crewmen and two passengers, all soldiers, struck head-on while on flight from Washington to Brooklyn Air Base at Mobile, Ala. It struck in a thick fog and slid only a few feet. Eight bodies were inside. The ninth man apparently had crawled out, but moved only a few feet.

Two mountaineers had touched off the search in this area in reporting they heard an explosion last Wednesday morning. Thick fog and a near cloudburst last night caused rangers and air force search groups temporarily to suspend the hunt.

U. S. Tells China Reds They Cannot Force Recognition

Washington, Oct. 7.—(P)—The United States served a sharp notice on the Chinese communists today that they cannot force American diplomatic recognition by "flagrant disregard" of accepted standards of international conduct.

Blasting a communist order muzzle-zing western news correspondents, the state department gave this new turn to relations with China shortly after the other side in the Chinese war—the Nationalists—unexpectedly freed two seized American merchant ships.

The communist order will "blot out completely objective reporting" of developments in communist areas and represents a "crude attempt" to force recognition of the new pro-Soviet "Peoples Republic" proclaimed October 1 at Peiping, the state department said in a formal statement.

The muzzle order applies to newsmen at Shanghai, the last remaining major outlet for dispatches from Red China. It says correspondents from countries which do not recognize the Peiping regime may no longer file dispatches, thus only Russian correspondents and those from the other Soviet bloc countries which have recognized the communists may continue to function.
